

PRIVACY

To deliver effective websites, we need to collect certain information from our customers, particularly personal details for identification. We are committed to the protection of our customers' privacy.

Any personal information that we may collect from our customers is kept secure. We do not (and will never) pass on, sell or trade any of your personal details. We use this information to identify the services you have ordered from us and to personalise your Murphy's Technology experience.

If you visit the Murphy's Technology website, our system may record anonymous information about your visit such as the number of pages you viewed and the duration of your visit. We use this information to understand site usage and to make improvements to the Murphy's Technology website. Personal information is rarely able to be gained from this process and, as such, no personal information is stored from website visitors.

Communicating with us via our online contact forms or directly may require you to share your personal information, such as your full name, street address, email address and or phone number. Whilst we may need to disclose some information with our partner organisations to deliver a service you have requested (such as a domain name registration), we do not share this information with third parties.

Should you wish to opt out of any Murphy's Technology communication after an enquiry, please contact our team to be removed: info@murphystechnology.com
